WAGES QUESTIONS.

Settlements and Disputes.
(Reuter's Service.)

London, March 28.
The question of readjustment of the pay of the mercantile marine has been settled at a meeting of the National Maritime Board in London, attended by representatives of the chief shipping interests and seafarers' unions, when it was agreed that, from April 16, the basic rate of wages of seamen, firemen and the catering departments be reduced by a pound a month. It was also agreed that the scales of pay of navigating and engineering officers be revised from the same date.

London, March 28.
The conference discussing the denunciation of the national wages agreement has decided to refer the question to the districts. Meanwhile the executive will consult the owners and try to obtain an amendment of the Minimum Wage Act in order to provide a wage equal to the cost of living.

American Theatres Affected.

New York, March 28.
The musicians in the theatres and cinemas have decided to strike for increased wages.

London, March 28.
An important lead to the Miners' Federation, to which they are affiliated, has been given by the Cleveland ironstone miners deciding to accede to the employers' request that they revert to an eight hour day.

FRANCE AND GERMANY.

Fresh Rumours of Mediation.

Paris, March 28.
The Reparation Commission in a note to Germany asserts the priority of right over all the resources of the Reich, but does not indicate what action the Commission would take. In connection with the loan, the note states, the Commission does not challenge Germany's right to issue a loan, but the reparations and other treaty charges must take precedence over the payment of interest and capital.

London, March 28.
The visit of Hugo Stinnes to Italy, which he has just left for Berlin, has revived rumours of the possibility of mediation between France and Germany. Stinnes conferred in Rome with the Italian Cabinet Ministers and American businessmen and financiers including Mr. Garry, president of the Steel Corporation, on the subject of reparations. It is reported in Rome that an unofficial American mission of financial enquiry will shortly proceed to Berlin. It is noteworthy that the Belgian Foreign Minister, M. Jaspar, has conferred with Signor Mussolini at Milan.

INTERESTING COMPANY CASE.

London, March 28.
Mr. Justice Romer heard a motion by Sir T.D. Pile and other dissentient shareholders to restrain the Batavia and General Plantations Trust, Limited, from acting on this resolution of March 6th for an increase of capital by issuing half a million two shilling preference shares, on the ground that the object was to enable the directors to obtain control, against the wishes of the majority of shareholders. The defendants' counsel said there was no ulterior object, and the purpose of the issue was to retain the company's paramount interest in the Medan Company.

His Lordship held that it was impossible to say the directors were not acting with the best interests of the company in view, and made no order on the motion.

SINGAPORE'S NAVAL BASE.

London, March 28.
In the House of Commons, replying to a question, Comdr. Eyres Monsell said that half of the eleven millions sterling to be expended on the naval dockyard at Singapore will be expended on materials derived as far as possible within the Empire. The balance would be expended on labour. Probably the foremen and higher grades of the supervising staff would be British or Colonial, and the other workmen would be recruited locally if possible.

U.S. SHIPPING PROBLEMS.

Washington, March 28.
The United States Ship Operators' Association has advised the Shipping Board to scrap all its unserviceable tonnage and sell the good tonnage to American operators only. The Steamship Owners' Association has tendered similar advice. The operators in their letter declare that under the present world shipping conditions, with the existing laws, it is plain the American shipowners can operate only at a loss in foreign trade.

NEW ZEALAND BY-ELECTION.

Wellington, N.Z., March 28.
The New Zealand Government has retained Tauranga at the by-election. Mr. McMillan, the Reformist, polled 4,250, and Sir Joseph Ward, Liberal, 3,034. The loss of this seat would have reduced the Government's apparent majority to one. Mr. Massey was very active in electioneering in the constituency for a fortnight.

HIGH PRICE OF SUGAR.

St. Augustine, Florida, March 28.
The rapid rise in the price of sugar, the retail cost of which is twelve cents a pound compared with five cents last month, has prompted President Harding to order an enquiry with a view to reducing the duty if the tariff be found responsible for the increase.

THE IRISH BUDGET.

London, March 28.
In Dublin dissatisfaction is freely expressed with the Budget of forty-two millions. It is pointed out that this is ten millions more than the expenditure under British rule for the whole country. The deficit is apparently some fifteen millions.

SUPERINTENDENT SUES SHIPPING COMPANY.

Manager Believed to Have Absconded.

Captain J. H. van den Berg, master mariner, residing at 43, Wyndham Street, brought an action in the Summary Court, before Mr. Justice Gompertz, this morning, against the Mei Lee Steamship Company, of 4, Queen's Road Central, and Tong Mun-kee the managing director. The claim was for $600, one month's salary.

Plaintiff was represented by Mr. F.G. Vaux. Defendants put in no appearance themselves, neither was there a solicitor in Court on their behalf.

Capt. van den Berg said he was employed by the defendant firm as superintendent on a two years' agreement on a salary of $300 a month and $100 a month house allowance, commencing from February 14th. He had received no pay from them and he believed the manager had absconded.

Plaintiff did not bring his agreement to Court with him and judgment was deferred pending its production.

FAMOUS 'CELLIST.

Miss Munkle to Play in Hongkong.

Hongkong is soon to have a real musical treat. Miss May Munkle, a very noted 'cellist, will be passing through the Colony shortly and, with the assistance of Miss Rebecca Clarke (violin) and Miss Gertrude Watson (piano), who are accompanying her, she will give a chamber concert in the City Hall at 5.30 p.m. on April 11th.

Miss Munkle is one of the world's best 'cellists and she has just given a series of concerts at Bombay in conjunction with the Symphony Orchestra there. Press notices say that Miss Munkle's interpretation and execution are superb. She combines wonderfully with the other two ladies, and there is no doubt that these talented musicians will receive a warm reception in Hongkong. Unhappily, they will only be able to give one concert here.

STOLEN CIGARETTES.

Thief Gets Three Months.

When a truck coolie went on board a steamer yesterday, to take delivery of a shipment of cigarettes, he left a short-sighted man in charge of his truck. Profiting by this opportunity, a thief stole one of the packages containing some ten thousand cigarettes. When the coolie returned, he discovered the loss, the short-sighted man being quite unaware of it. A search was made, and, taking the direction by which it was calculated the thief would go, the coolie eventually came upon the man. The latter was already in the custody of a policeman, having been unable to give a satisfactory explanation as to how the "smokes" came into his possession. The sentence inflicted by Mr. R. E. Lindsell, at the Police Court this morning, was three months' hard labour.

RE-ASSESSMENT OF PROPERTY.

Rents Ordinance Protects Tenants.

In view of the annual re-assessment of local property now in progress, it is interesting to note what effect, if any, this procedure can have on tenants who are protected by the Rents Ordinance.

A Telegraph representative, on enquiry at the Assessor's office this morning, learned that, when the adjustment of assessments takes place every year, the general rule is to leave all property that comes within the scope of the Rents Restriction Ordinance alone. Only in a few cases, where special circumstances indicate it, is the assessment of such property revised.

Landlords, of course, always have the right to appeal against any increased rating, but should property that comes under the Ordinance have its assessment raised, it is the owner who has to meet the increase, the tenant being fully protected.

Otherwise, it is property that lies without the scope of the Ordinance, such as new buildings, developments in new areas, and so forth, that is subject to re-assessment; and this also applies to houses occupied by the owners themselves.

BELGIAN MISSION TO JAPAN.

Passes Through Hongkong.

To give effect to a scheme of trade development conceived at the conclusion of the late war, information regarding which had previously been received through the cables, an Industrial Mission is on its way from Belgium to Japan. Headed by M. Canon Legrand, the Mission, which comprises eight members, arrived in Hongkong on Tuesday and called on M. Kremer, French Consul-General, who is also acting as Consul for Belgium at this port.

Recognition of the better results that could be attained by closer co-operation between the Government and industrial organisation of the country is evidenced by the inclusion in the delegation of a Government representative in the person of General Pontus. On arrival at their destination, the Mission will engage in conference with organisations representative of the trade interests of Japan, and it is expected that many new trade connections will be established as a result. Questions in regard to the customs tariff of both countries may be discussed. Apart from the benefit that might be expected to result from it, the visit will be welcomed by those who hope for a closer rapprochement in the relations of the two countries which were Allies in the war.

The Mission, after a brief stay of scarcely twenty-four hours in the Colony, left yesterday afternoon by a Japanese steamer on their way to Japan.

APOSTOLIC DELEGATE TO CHINA.

Proposed Gift of a House.

Sixteen Chinese priests, representatives of a Committee which will appeal for contributions to the project of building the Most Rev. Cebu Apostolic Delegate to China, his residence in Peking, which the latter has been pleased to accept.

In their letter to the Apostolic Delegate, the priests state that they wish to make this offer as a token of gratitude to His Holiness the Pope for sending a representative to China, and they ask for consent to the opening of a subscription throughout all China. They say they wish every Catholic in China to take part in this subscription so that the house, as it were, might be built with stones coming from every part of the country. They suggest Peking as the site, for "Peking is for us what Rome is for the whole Church. It is not only the capital of our country, but it is the city where the first apostles brought us the truth of the Gospel; it is city where the first Bishops laid the foundations of our Church."

In accepting the offering, the Apostolic Delegate states that in 1510 the first gift of a house to the Church was made by the Emperor himself to serve for a memorial to the devoted missionary of glorious fame, Rev. Matthew Ricci. He suggests that the building be a dignified one, to the exclusion of all superfluous extravagance and worldly ostentation. "I shall feel myself nearer and more united to our worthy Bishops and missionaries, who pass their days rich only in charity," he suggests, "if I have an entirely Chinese character in construction and decoration, pointing out that the people of every nation have their own architectural sense, and he believes it an error to introduce foreign styles of architecture. He sees no obstacle in transferring his seat to Peking, and recalls that amongst the pioneer missionaries was Odoric of Pordenone, who preached in Peking in 1325 and baptised many neophytes. In the history of Odoric's wonderful travels it is related that one day he met the Imperial cortege, when the Emperor halted his carriage, bowed reverently to the Cross which Odoric was carrying, and accepted the gift of a little fruit given in the name of Christ. "After six centuries," says the Apostolic Delegate, "you repeat a similar exchange of affectionate feelings, donating in the name of Christ gift of greater significance to His Church."

Our Picture Page on Saturday will include photos taken at the wedding of Mr. R. S. Logan and Miss Jessie Jack, and of Mr. Charles Choa and Miss Eileen Lo as well as a group of the St. Paul's College staff.

Mr. D. A. Purves presided at an interesting debate held last evening in St. Andrew's Church Hall, when the subject was "Does the Editor wield more power than the Orator?" Students of the Hongkong University, led by Messrs. M. B. Oeman and Yook, took the affirmative, whilst the St. Andrew's Church Men's Association, led by Messrs. Penny and Farrell, took the other side. The vote overwhelmingly favoured the affirmative.

Two men are being sought by the police as the result of the receipt of a report with violence, that of a robbery with violence. It appears that a little girl sent out on an errand, was coming down the staircase of her home at No. 12, Tai Pingshan Street yesterday, when she was seized by two men and robbed of a pair of bangles valued at $20. She was unable to call for assistance as one of the robbers kept her hand over her mouth. They fled in the direction of the Victoria Park.

FOR DISABLED FIGHTERS.

Canton British Women Thanked.

The Secretary of the Canton British Women's Memorial Fund has received the following letters of thanks from Mr. J. Rudge Harding, the Secretary of the Star and Garter Home for Disabled Soldiers and Sailors, and from Sir William H. Bennett, K.C.V.O., Vice-Chairman of the Governors and Chairman of the House Committee.

February 26th, 1923.
Dear Madam,
I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 5th January, enclosing drafts for £348.6.6, viz. £248.6.6 for Endowment and £200 to be specially devoted to the welfare of the patients.

I am directed by the Governors of the Star & Garter Home for Disabled Sailors and Soldiers to express their most warm and grateful thanks for these further generous and welcome donations, and to ask you to be good enough, as far as possible, to convey the assurance of their gratitude to members of your Committee and to all our kind friends and well-wishers in Canton, not only for their recent successful efforts to secure the permanent endowment of a bed in the Star & Garter at Sandgate, at the cost of so much time and trouble, but for their unfailing sympathy with the disabled men in the Home during the past four years.

The sum of £200 which you enclosed shall be devoted, as your Committee desire, to provide a gift or gifts which will increase the comfort or add to the happiness of the men in our care at Sandgate. To that end, the money is being paid into our Commemorative Fund to be earmarked for the purpose intended. The sum of £348.6.6, with the addition of £231.13.8, the amount previously received, will now be handed over to the Official Trustees of Charitable Funds to be invested under a Deed of Trust which will secure the permanent endowment of the Canton British Women's Memorial Bed at Sandgate.

I have the pleasure to enclose two official receipts. Although your Committee is being dissolved I will, with your permission, continue to send from time to time any information about the Star & Garter which may be of interest to you and our friends in Canton, to whom we are so deeply indebted.

I am, dear Madam, Yours very sincerely
(Signed) J. RUDGE HARDING.

February 19th, 1923.
Dear Madam,
The House Committee of the Star and Garter having heard at their meeting to-day of the generous donations received from the British Women of Canton, I am desired as chairman most gratefully to thank you and your Committee, and at the same time to say how greatly we appreciate the action of our friends in Canton—contributing so few as they must be—showing such striking proof of sympathy by endowing a bed in the Sandgate Home at a cost of £1,000, and further by contributing a sum of £200 for the purpose of adding to the comfort and happiness of the patients there.

It has been decided to hold this special gift intact until an appropriate opportunity occurs of giving full effect to your wishes. Will you be good enough, so far as it is possible, to express to all who have participated in this generous gift, our heartfelt thanks as well as the gratitude of the disabled men to whom such helpful sympathy has been shown?

Yours sincerely,
(Signed) WILLIAM H. BENNETT.

BOYCOTT OF JAPAN.

Japanese Protest.

The Japanese Consul at Shanghai has sent in a communication to the Canton authorities regarding the threat of Chinese Labour Guilds to start a boycott if the 21 demands are not cancelled. It is pointed out that such a course by Chinese labour would imperil the good relations that had hitherto existed between the two countries.

KWANGSI & YUNNAN TROOPS.

The Situation at Canton.

With regard to the future movements of Kwangsi and Yunnan troops now in Canton, General Shum Hung-yung, the Kwangsi Commander, has issued a notice to the effect that his forces stationed on Koon Yam Shan will be moved into the Arsenal, whilst Shum's own headquarters have been moved to Shingling. Although General Shum has moved most of his forces out of the city, his troops in the North and West River districts have been greatly strengthened by reinforcements from Kwangsi, who are strongly posted near the north and west outskirts of the city.

It is reported that Dr. Sun has decided to raise a sum of money for the purpose of rebuilding the barracks at Intong, in order to accommodate the Yunnan troops.

A PIOL AND STEEL
PILLSVOLUNTEER
INSPECTION.General Fowler Regrets
Little Public Support.

The General Officer Commanding
(Major General Sir John Fowler, K.C.M.G.) yesterday made his annual inspection of the Hongkong Volunteer Defence Corps on the Murray Parade ground. A large number of spectators watched the proceedings with great interest.
The troops formed up at Volunteer Headquarters and, headed by the Pipe Band of the Scottish Company, and the Mounted Infantry, marched to the parade ground. It was a far better turn out than last year, over 180, of a total strength of just over 300, being on parade, as compared with only 119 a year ago.
The troops were under the command of the acting Commandant (Major Murdoch), and others on parade were Major R. B. Young
(the Adjutant) and Major Black (Medical Officer).

The Parade.
The parade was made up as follows:
Artillery Company—Ten other
ranks.

Engineer Company—Lieut. E. M.
Smith and 23 other ranks.
Machine Gun Platoon—Sgt. Brice
Kenbridge and 11 other ranks.

Mounted Infantry Section—Sgt.
Dowling and 21 other ranks.
Nos. 1 and 2 Platoons—Second Lieut. Jordan and 41 other ranks.
No. 3 Platoon—Second Lieut.
J. Ralston, M. C., and 27 other
ranks.

No. 6 Platoon—Second Lieut.
D. Logan, M.C., and 19 other ranks.
No. 9 Platoon and Reserve Company—Second Lieut. (retired Major)
C. Willson, O.B.E., and 23 other ranks.

Pipe Band—10 other ranks.
On the General's arrival a general salute was given. Major General Sir John Fowler, who was accompanied by his A.D.C., having inspected the various Companies and Platoons, formed up at the town end of the ground, made a short address, after which he took the salute as the troops marched back to Headquarters.

The General's Speech.
The General Officer Commanding, in his address, said that since his inspection a year ago the strength of the Corps had gone down. The number was then 337, and now it was only 306. Of course, it was not their fault. He thought they would agree with him that it was not by any means satisfactory. They had lost 74 through people leaving the Colony and for other reasons, and had only obtained, during the year, 41 recruits. On parade that day were 180, and allowing for men out of the Colony and others absent for unavoidable reasons, the proportion present was, he considered, only fair.

With regard to funds and equipment, Sir John Fowler said that His Excellency the Governor and the Colonial Government had, in the past, and he was sure would continue in the future, supported the Corps by approving of expenditure which it was shown would be spent on increasing efficiency. If the Volunteers would make adequate use of their opportunities, funds were not lacking to provide the means of making them efficient. Increases of allowance to Mounted Infantry, and the new 30-yards range, were cases in point.
The Artillery Company had now received two new howitzers—powerful weapons which required skill to shoot well with.

Training.
Referring to training, the General said that instructional parades had been held as the attendance of Volunteers warranted.

As far as he was aware, there had been no lack of competent instructors. The Garrison was ready and willing to help in any way they could. As they knew themselves, the great handicap to training was the irregularity of attendance.
This hampered progressive training. The keen ones attended regularly, whilst others only turned up occasionally, and therefore, could not take their places with their colleagues and spoil the whole success of the work. The obligation in drills was not great, and he hoped that it would be more generally fulfilled than it was at present.

The Mounted Infantry Section had two useful week-end camps on the frontier, and obtained some good training in the mountainous and difficult country about there.
The attendance was good. The Section Commander had worked most keenly and well in getting them to turn out and in securing recruits. Under certain circumstances this Mounted Troop would be of great value.

The Infantry Company had only received their guns recently. Having a proportion of old gunners trained in the war they were able to fire quite effectively on the range. He hoped they would be able to get more recruits for the Section and more men qualified in the duties of the detachment.

The R.E. Company ran searchlights and had passed certain tests very well. He attached great importance to having engineers in the Corps and hoped to be able to develop a signal section equipped with wireless.

For the Infantry Companies they had had two week-end camps at Lau, and about 70 attended each.
He was glad to note that some men who attended the first also went to the second. The training done was useful. The Infantry was a really good addition to the military strength of the Colony, but he could not help wishing that the camps had been better attended.

Speaking generally of training, the General said that as far as possible the object had been to make it interesting—to make men think out problems for themselves —and not to make it too arduous or to take up too much of their time. A number of officers and N.C.O.'s had given up much time to the training of their units, for which they deserved much credit.
As he had already said, they had been handicapped by the irregular attendance. As far as training was concerned, if anybody had any useful suggestions to make, they would be only too glad to receive them and he could assure them they would receive consideration.

The General paid a tribute to the work done by Major Murdoch as acting Commandant. Major Murdoch had devoted much time to the Corps during the past training season, and the good results obtained were due in large measure to the interest that he had taken in it. He regretted that Major Young was not the Adjutant before next training season.

Hongkong's Public Opinion.

The Hongkong Volunteer Corps,
the General proceeded, was one for practical use. It was essentially required to meet the needs of the Colony. It was not a Corps for show, and they wanted to make it as comprehensive and efficient as possible. A large proportion of members of the Corps were older men who had been in it for some years, all credit to them; but the great bulk of the younger men who came out to the Colony were not joining the Corps in the numbers that they should. There seemed to be in Hongkong very little of what he might call public opinion sup-

CORRESPONDENCE.

(To the Editor of the "Hongkong Telegraph.")

Enforcement of Firearms Act.

Sir,—A despatch has been received from the Secretary of State for the Colonies directing attention to the provisions of the Firearms Act, 1920, and to the fact that an Order-in-Council of the 24th March, 1921, has prohibited the importation of firearms and ammunition except under licence given by the Board of Trade.

2. This requirement is now being strictly enforced; and while anyone entering the United Kingdom may import a smooth-bore shotgun or shotgun ammunition without any import licence, anyone in possession of a rifle or revolver, or rifle or revolver ammunition, will have to procure and produce a licence from the Board of Trade before importation can be allowed.
Failing the production of such a licence the weapon or ammunition must be left with the Customs authorities until the licence can be procured.

3. It is advisable therefore for all persons desirous of taking firearms into the United Kingdom to apply in advance from the Colony to the Board of Trade for a licence to import the firearms. After arrival a Firearm Certificate must be obtained without loss of time from the nearest police station.—I am, etc.

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

RUHR OCCUPATION.

Berlin, March 28.
In a speech in committee in the Reichstag, the Foreign Minister Herr Rosenberg indicated that the Government had informed the interested Powers which were not concerned directly with the Ruhr conflict, that Germany considered that, in accordance with the proposals of U. S. Secretary Hughes in December, an international commission of business men, on which Germany and France would be represented on terms of equality, should determine Germany's ability to meet her obligations and the manner of meeting them. The Government would then be prepared to obtain the highest possible international loan provided with any guarantee deemed necessary.
The proceeds to be handed over to France or the Allies. The sufferings of the Ruhr population were daily increasing, with the danger of an outbreak of national passions, but the Government could not see any possibility of abandonment of passive resistance unless the assailant returned to the previous boundaries. As regards political security for France, he suggested a reciprocal non-aggression pact.

THE SOVIET AND THE ECCLESIASTICS.

London, March 28.
Latest news from Moscow is that the execution of the sentences imposed on the Catholic ecclesiastics has been postponed pending a special order from the Soviet authorities.
Mr. T. P. O'Connor and Commander Kenworthy are among those

ASSAULT & STABBING.

Police Inspector's Son the Victim.

Six men and a youth were charged on remand, before Mr. R. E. Lindsell at the Magistracy yesterday afternoon, with assaulting a youth named Hau Sang-ki and causing him grievous bodily harm. A further charge of unlawful possession of a dagger was preferred against two of the defendants.

Mr. M. W. Lo defended two of the defendants and Mr. W. R. Hind represented the seventh defendant.

In his evidence the complainant, a son of Detective Inspector Hau Hang, said he recognised all the defendants, particularly the youth and the seventh defendant, the former is a newspaper boy from whom he had previously bought Chinese papers, and the latter as an ex-district watchman. At 8.30 on the night of the 17th March, as he left the Wah Ying restaurant in Wellington Street with his three young brothers and three schoolmates, the sixth accused (the youth) accosted him and, having ascertained that he was a son of Inspector Hau Hang, said he was wanted at Gough Street. Accompanied by his brothers and classmates he went along with the defendant to Gough Street. Ten men, including the other six defendants, suddenly appeared when they reached the junction of Shing Wong and Gough Streets. The first defendant asked if he was a son of Hau Hang and he replied in the affirmative. Then, without further ado, all the men set upon him. Witness ran to the side of the road and leaped against the wall, and in attempting to escape received a stab wound on the back of his right shoulder. He could not say who delivered the blow. On turning his head he saw first and third defendants nearest to him. He eventually got away and ran to the Central Police Station, where he made a report.

Examined by the Magistrate, witness said he could suggest no reason whatever for the assault. The Magistrate: Surely you must have talked over the matter with your father?

Witness: I have not. The Magistrate: Don't talk give some reason. You must be able to give some reason. (To Inspector Willis): Is there no reason at all?

Inspector Willis replied that he believed the trouble originated

MARATHON TO PEAK.

Feature of V.R.C. Sports.

A marathon race to the Peak and back! That and no less is to be the feature of the annual athletic meeting of the Victoria Recreation Club to be held this month. At a meeting of the Committee last night the sports were fixed for April 21st, entries closing on April 14th. Many other events there will be on the track, the Hongkong Football Club's ground at Happy Valley; but the Marathon race will be unique in the history of this type of event, and will hold most of the public interest. It is open to the whole Colony without bar.

We have from the Hon. Secretary of the V.R.C., Mr. R. C. Wittichell, the following particulars of the route to be followed: Start at Pokfulam Police Station via Pokfulam Road to the upper tramway terminus on the Peak, then through Plunkett Gap down to Plantation Road, along that road and Barker Road to Magazine Gap, thence by that road to Bowen Road. Along Bowen Road to Wong-nei-chong Gap, and along Wong-nei-chong Road to the Football Ground and once around the track. The total distance is estimated to be nine miles.

The rest of the programme will be much on the lines of last years. We are informed that the different clubs are taking a deal of interest in the meeting and a big entry is assured.

from the prank of throwing stones into houses on On Hing terrace, indulged in by school boys. Inspector Willis produced a letter complaining against the stone throwing on the terrace.

Another son of Inspector Hau Hang said he saw the first accused strike his eldest brother on the back twice with a weapon. After the assault he conducted the police to a shoemaker's shop in Gough Street, from which six of the defendants emerged before the fight, and subsequently to a hawk's stall where he pointed out a knife similar to the one that was used on his brother's back. The defendants were all arrested in the street.

After further evidence the case was adjourned until the afternoon of April 4th.

Summary.

The Pukine Judge (Mr. Gompertz) yesterday afternoon before him a case in which Kwong Kuei-yuen sued the Rung Chan firm for $90, two months rent in respect of premises No. 10 Queen's Road West, between the 18th December and 15th February.

Mr. McCallum (of Messrs. D. A. made and Mason) appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. C. A. S. Russ for the defendant.

Mr. McCallum explained the facts. He said that on the 10th December, 1920, plaintiff took over the whole of No. 10 Queen's Road West from the then tenant. From that time up to last November the plaintiffs paid the rent of the premises ($90) and received $45 from a sub-tenant. Going to his family and business attending, plaintiff had to take over other premises, but the defendant as tenant of No. 10 Queen's Road. In fact he had no intention of quitting. The landlord claimed that owing to plaintiff having gone and left only his foks in charge, he had virtually quit, and consequently refused to accept the rent. Ultimately the rent was accepted on one occasion. The sub-tenant then refused to pay, apparently giving the rent direct to the landlord. The present claim was against the under-tenant for two instalments of rent.

Plaintiff bore out his solicitor's opening statement. He said he required the premises for the accommodation of his foks. He denied that he had left the premises or agreed with the agent to give them up.

Mr. Russ, opening the case for the defendant, said it was claimed that there was a surrender of the tenancy and that the landlord then re-let them to his client. About the middle of November, the plaintiff left the premises and posted a notice of removal at the office. Another firm called the Kwok Sik Kai put up a signboard, but the defendant objected and went to the landlord's agent, who took the signboard down. Plaintiff said when interviewed by the agent that he had given up the premises and did not further require them. His Honour adjourned the case in order that what he described as "the mysterious Kwok Sik Kai" might be called.

VICTORIA REGATTA.

Easter Aquatic Programme.

As in past years, the Victoria Recreation Club will contribute appreciably to the Easter holiday programme this week-end. The Victoria Regatta is to be held as usual, and the programme is an interesting one, with its success assured by gratifying entries. The regatta will be held, as hitherto, at Black Boulder Point, Kowloon Bay, and there will be launches to convey the public thither. These will depart from Murray Pier every hour.

The Regatta commences at 2.30 p.m. on Saturday, and continues at 11 a.m. on Easter Monday. Those who wish to have tiffin supplied them on that day may arrange therefor at the V.R.C., with payment of $1.25 per head.

The Hon. Secretary of the Club, Mr. R. C. Wittichell, informs us that the entries ensure good sport. For the International Four two crews have signified their intention of competing. England will be pitted against Denmark. The Hong race will have four contesting boats, representing the Public Works Department, H. M. Submarines, the A. P. C. and Orient Tobacco Factory combined, and the Volunteer Defence Corps. For this event the Ho Tung Challenge Cup is the prize.

The Inter-Club event promises to be very keenly fought. The V.R.C. will strive against their old "enemies," the Royals, and with J. S. McCann away, expect to capture the R.H.Y.C. flag after several defeats in recent years. Another race will be for V.R.C. members, the trophy being the Chairman's Challenge Cup. Four boats will be put. Also there will be the six-bared gig race for the Brown Cup. This is a military competition, and two crews will be seen, representing the Royal Engineers and the 54th Company R.G.A. On Monday, in addition, there will be sailing races, so that the public is assured of plenty to see. It should be a very successful regatta, quite up to the mark of V.R.C. Regatta.

LEHAR'S NEW OPERETTA.

Chinese Melodies With a Viennese Setting.

Theatrical managers from all over the Continent have come to Vienna for Franz Lehar's new operetta, "The Yellow Jacket."

It is a quite simple story. A Viennese girl falls in love with a Chinese diplomat, marries him, and goes to China.

Home sickness attacks her, and her husband sets her free. In the end the couple are happily reunited.

In his melodies Lehar cleverly combines quaint Chinese airs with his own delightful Viennese music.

OUR YOUNG MEN.

Are Hongkong's young men leading the lives they should? That is a question that many persons, especially those who are connected with Church and social organisations, will answer with an emphatic negative. When we refer to the Colony's young men we mean, of course, the majority, and we refer to those who make this place only a temporary home, and are cut off from the family ties and friendships that they would have in the Homeland for instance. The question has occurred to us as a topic for discussion on our learning that building will probably be soon commenced on the European Y.M.C.A., on a site in Kowloon, where sport, both indoor and outdoor, social intercourse, and other amenities, intellectual and recreative, will be provided. It is welcome news, and we think the sooner the project becomes an accomplished fact the better it will be. Hongkong has been without its European Y.M.C.A. for some years now, and we fear that much potential opportunity for lifting the youthful stranger within our gates out of the paths of evil influence has in consequence been permitted to slip by.

There is one guiding principle in the life of a young man that the average newcomer immediately misses—the home influence. We know of so many cases in the tropical Colonies where promising lives have been wrecked through the absence of this influence that we cannot help feeling it is a subject for the whole community to become interested in. What is the outlook for most young fellows here? If they do not take strong drink at all, or are only moderate drinkers, they feel awkward when going to a club or with friends to a hotel, for it is impossible to maintain their principles without giving offence to those with whom, maybe, they desire to keep in friendship. In the end, these young men find themselves drinking more than they desire to, or is good for their health or their pockets. Sport and strong drink should not go hand in hand, yet it can be stated without fear of contradiction that it is almost an impossibility for a man who goes to any local club for a game of tennis, or other recreation, to confine himself to one drink, and that a testical one. If he tries to keep to that line of conduct, he soon becomes unpopular, and his loneliness, the greatest curse he finds here, becomes intensified. There the whole matter lies—in loneliness. There are very few of the opposite sex of his own class for the European young man to meet, and it is only occasionally that the European married women out here can find time to entertain bachelors. For the most part, there is a lack of facilities for entertainment, owing to the absence of spacious grounds to most of the houses, except amongst the favoured few. The young European on a small salary meets people who are little better off than himself, and with nearly every one of them it is only a club, with its inevitable bar, that can cater for his recreative needs.

Then there are other aspects of a young fellow's life here that cannot be overlooked, however ugly they appear. Loneliness again, and the absence of the society of women of his own kind, open the door to many temptations that too often bring sorrow in their wake. We wonder whether some form of association of married women here could not be arranged—as has been done in other of His Majesty's possessions—by which each could take it in turn to invite a few lonely men to an afternoon's glimpse of home away from home. It is a big project, and we are quite prepared to learn that it would prove impracticable, but it might be worthy of consideration. We have not the space at our disposal for a discussion of the subject as fully as we should like, but perhaps even our brief summary of the young man's problems will be the means of awakening interest in the matter; and at least it might make those who incline to be critical pause before they condemn the mode of life of the average young European in Hongkong. We fear that the Y.M.C.A. when it eventually comes into being will only meet a part of the needs we have indicated but at least it will do one thing—provide healthy sport, with a good influence, and no necessity for the excessive consumption of alcohol. We may appear to be treading heavily on the corns of persons who might take our remarks too literally. We have no desire whatever to criticise any local club. All such institutions provide for the average member a means of pleasant intercourse and recreation with his fellows. But they can also be, and sometimes are, the means of leading a young man who lacks moral courage into drinking more than he should. Facts have to be faced. However, strong drink, as we have shown, is only one of the temptations to which the subject of this article is exposed. Our protest, maybe a vain one, is against the artificial conditions of the average young man's life in Hongkong. We feel we cannot let such a matter remain overlooked, as it seems to have been for so long.

Our Refuse-Carts.

Visitors who come to Hongkong invariably comment on the cleanliness of the Colony, which, of course, is a tribute to our Sanitary Department. It is a deserved tribute, too. Hongkong's army of scavengers is always kept busily engaged, with the result that the condition of our streets is a credit to the Colony. But whilst the work is well and thoroughly done, it must be conceded that in one respect the machinery employed is not all that it might be. We refer to the employment of uncovered refuse-carts. This matter has

DAY BY DAY.

IF YOU ARE PLEASANT EVERY MORNING, UNTIL TEN O'CLOCK, THE REST OF THE DAY WILL TAKE CARE OF ITSELF.

To-morrow, being Good Friday, there will be no issue of the Hongkong Telegraph. The next issue will be on Saturday.

Capt. and Mrs. Ricou arrived here by the s.s. Paul Lecat.

Yesterday's health return shows two cases of diphtheria (one imported) and one each of small-pox, cerebro-spinal fever and puerperal fever. All were Chinese.

The Marquis and Marchioness of Sligo left Hongkong by the s.s. President Cleveland. The Marquis was formerly a Captain in the Army and saw service in Afghanistan in 1879-80.

Recently the junior partner of a drugstore in Connaught Road Central died, and on looking through the accounts of which the deceased had charge, a deficiency of $40,000 was discovered. A complaint has been made to the police.

The dispute between house carpenters and building contractors regarding wages is still unsettled, negotiations having failed. The Guild delegates are to meet the Secretary for Chinese Affairs and the Director of Public Works on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Montague Edle left by the Suwa Maru for London, being accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Rotherham and her husband, Major Rotherham. Amongst the other Hongkong passengers were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Seth and Mr. P. A. Dixon.

The rents claim in which Kwong Kiu-yuen sued the Kung Chan firm for $90, two months' rent in respect of premises, No. 10 Queen's Road West, which commenced before Mr. Justice Gompertz, in the Summary Court, yesterday afternoon (and which is reported on another page) concluded this morning, judgment being reserved.

been mentioned more than once, but we feel the time has come when a further protest should be registered against the handling of rubbish in this way. The other day we saw two of these vehicles coming down Ice House Street laden to overflowing with garbage of all kinds. As they were rushed through the streets, some of their contents were scattered about the ground, to be gathered coolies and replaced in the carts. This kind of thing cannot be good for the public health, especially now that the warm weather is approaching. These carts should be of a type suited to local needs, and, above all else, they should be provided with covers so as to prevent the spread of disease when passing through the streets of the Colony. It should be an easy matter to so equip the existing vehicles, and we trust that this note will have the effect of this necessary work being carried out.

The Canton Outlook.

We are glad that, thus far, no evil results have followed the Peking mandate appointing Kwangai and Yunnan military leaders to high positions in Canton. It is stated that the chief recipients of these posts have declined them, but nobody knows exactly what is going on behind the scenes. One thing we do know, namely, that the "outside" troops are receiving no pay. They are relying on the gambling revenues, which they control, for the wherewithal to exist, and we can quite understand that their leaders prefer quietude continuing for the time being, in order that there may be no stoppage of revenue from this source. All the same, matters cannot go on for ever as they now are. Everything is, administratively, in a topsy-turvy state, and there are continuous squabbles regarding the control of various revenue-producing departments. Whether another "Government" is established or not, control must be centralised by some means. There must be some recognised leaders in authority. This problem has to be faced, and it cannot be delayed. Until it is dealt with, there will be an ever-present fear of real trouble again breaking out.

Occasionally Yours

Robert MacWhirter.

I wonder.

The other day I got to thinking of this Easter Egg business. Joe, he laughed when I told him how we used to roll our coloured eggs on Easter Sunday. Now if I could remember only a tenth part of what I've read in days gone by, I've no doubt but that the whole explanation of the Easter Egg would be only a matter of the time taken to tell it. But somehow or other, though, I seem to have lost the key to the whole business.

Just why we go into Wiseman's and buy big fancy-coloured eggs for our children is therefore not easy to answer. Why eggs? As I have said, we boys used to have our eggs dyed red and on Easter Sunday we solemnly rolled them over the graves of our kind, on the grass. There wasn't much from which it may be argued fun in that, you'll say. Granted that the yearly disposal of but then we got the eggs to eat afterwards. True, they were hard-boiled but what's that to the healthy youngster?

Let's see now, why eggs? Well, for one thing at this time of the year they were cheap. I can remember eggs at Easter egg sixpence a dozen! So the supply was seasonal.

This business of rolling them in the fields smacks of some kind of spring ceremony. It takes us in one jump right back to mythology when various gods and goddesses were alleged to have been released from the nether regions for a certain period every year. A rude agrarian people observing the reappearance of vegetation each Spring might well believe in, nay create such a belief. To our rude forefathers successful growth was everything. Abundant crops meant all the difference between hunger and comfort during that portion of the year when their goddess abandoned the earth to winter in a warmer clime. So much, perhaps, for the actual ceremony itself. I wonder.

It was based no doubt on a desire to please, to propitiate.

But hold on. Why red coloured eggs? Sounds like the smouldering remnant of something having a sanguinary origin. Why, of course, didn't they, way back, have real sacrifices of men and women and strew the fields with the fragments thereof? A dirty business but no doubt based on what to the savage mind savoured of commensence. As a boy I can always remember of a certain portion of our garden where the grass always grew longest. That was where the dogs and other domestic pets had been buried. Fertilisation? Sure. Possibly our eggs dyed red and on Easter Sunday we solemnly rolled them over the graves of our kind, on the grass. There wasn't much from which it may be argued fun in that, you'll say. Granted that the yearly disposal of but then we got the eggs to eat afterwards. True, they were hard-boiled but what's that to the healthy youngster?

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS.

Saturday's Shield Finals.

(BY "QUIZ.")

The matches for Saturday are as follow:

JUNIOR SHIELD FINAL.
South China Reserves v. King's Reserves.—Club ground 3 p.m.

SENIOR SHIELD FINAL.
Kowloon v. King's Regt.—Club ground 4.40 p.m.

There will not be any League games this week. The finals for the Challenge Shields will be played this week and, as all the four teams engaged are in strict training, there should be some very interesting football.

The Senior Shield was presented by the Hongkong community in 1897 for annual competition among the football clubs of the Colony, and, with the exception of the years 1917 and 1918, has been played for each year under arrangements made by the Hongkong Football Club. Owing to the increase of the number of clubs now competing, the H.K.F.A. have taken over the management of the competition. The Junior Shield has been inaugurated this season by the H.K.F.A. owing to twenty clubs entering the Junior League.

For the junior game, the King's will start favourites, as they have won the Second Division of the League this season. They will find the South China team a very strong combination, seeing that they have only one team in the Junior Competition, whereas they had two teams in the Junior League. The scoring should be low and the result very open. In the event of a draw at the end of ninety minutes' play, an extra ten minutes each way will be played.

As in the junior game, the King's will start favourites for the senior. These teams have met once before this season, when the King's won by two goals to nil. Kowloon have improved wonderfully since that defeat, and, on their present play, will have their share of the game, and with a little luck may come out on top. The King's will leave nothing undone to put their best team in the field. Wynne is expected to turn out for this match, while Blacoe should be

EUROPEAN'S SUDDEN DEATH.

Discovery In Astor House Hotel.

A tragic discovery was made by one of the Chinese boys in the Astor House Hotel yesterday morning, when a European gentleman was found dead in his bed. The deceased had only taken the room, No. 43, the previous evening at seven o'clock. From papers found on his person, he appears to be a Mr. J. G. Jangham, of Shanghai, and he was apparently not in very good health, for he went to the Astor House direct from hospital. Nothing is known of him so far, except that he has been in the Colony for some time, and is believed to have a wife residing in Shanghai. He appears to be about 35 years of age.

After booking his room at the hotel the deceased appears to have retired immediately, and he was not seen again previous to his dead body being discovered the next day. He was lying in bed, and the electric light was still on. There are no indications as to how the man met his death, and a post mortem examination is being held to-day.

out between the sticks. A very useful man for the outside left position was discovered last week when playing against the R.F.A. and it is expected that Lord will be seen out on the Club ground in the final. Kowloon have had the luck to be able to field the same team practically throughout the season, and they play good combination, while they have a set of forwards who can score goals. As in the junior game, extra time will be played should the scores be equal at the end of ninety minutes' play.

A charity match has been arranged to take place at Kowloon on Easter Monday at 4 p.m. between teams chosen to represent the Army and South China. The Army have got together a strong side, and with South China turning out at full strength, a very fine game and a large attendance is expected.

The following team will represent Kowloon in their match against the King's: Woodman, Wheeler, Knight, Morrison, McKelvie, Pascoe, Glenn, Hall, Scully, Dwyer, Mason, Reserves: O. Duncan.

The Strike Finally Settled.

Settlement of the strike of Taikoo Sugar Refinery fitters was yesterday reached with the signing of an agreement giving a general flat increase of ten cents per day to the workmen. The strikers, who number about a hundred, have been notified of the result, and work will be resumed at the Refinery tomorrow morning.

TO-DAY'S MISCELLANY.

"No Sunday movies, no Sunday church services." That was virtually the alternative that nearly 200 women of New York delivered to Charles Hangle, police chief. As a result, the four movie theatres in town were open on Sunday. Chief Hangle received a letter from the Rev. S. P. Brackman, acting for the ministers, in which he was requested to close the theatres on Sunday. Chief Hangle issued orders to close the theatres. Three delegations of women including some church members, waited on the chief. A hurried meeting of the Mayor, police chief and Town Council was held and the closing order was rescinded.

An injunction was granted in Rome recently against Father Lorenzo Perosi, noted composer of church music, restraining him from disposing of his property. That was done at the request of Abbe Perosi's family with a view to protecting his famous oratorios and other musical compositions. Only three of these have been published, the manuscripts of the remainder being in his possession, and considered by his family to be unsafe, owing to his mental condition, which was described as growing worse. Rome dispatches last May announced that Abbe Perosi had been examined by three physicians, who issued a statement saying they had prescribed isolation and rest for him after having found him subject to wandering ideas which influenced his conduct.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Yesterday's Results.

The most interesting match in the tennis tournament yesterday was that between H. D. Rumjahn and A. H. Rumjahn. The pair were very evenly matched, the former having to struggle hard to take the first two sets. The third he obtained easily and passed into the second round of the Open Championship Singles.

In the Open Championship Doubles the brothers Lo, as expected, easily defeated G. Grimble and L. Nelson. They combined very effectively.

H. Hancock defeated W. B. Cornaby in the Club Championship after a hard tussle. He had to go all out to win the first two sets.

A surprising result was the defeat of Pay. Commander Worthington in the Handicap Singles "A." After taking the first set he found the handicap too much for him and lost the next two. His opponent, Wild, played a fine game and was more forceful in his methods than his opponent.

The results follow:

Open Championship Singles.—H. D. Rumjahn beat A. H. Rumjahn, 7-5, 7-5, 6-1.

Open Championship Doubles.—M. K. and M. W. Lo beat E. Grimble and L. Nelson 6-0, 6-3, 6-2.

Club Championship.—H. Hancock beat W. B. Cornaby, 8-6, 7-5, 6-1.

Handicap Singles "A."—R. H. Wild (+ 3/6) beat R. E. Worthington (—30), 3-6, 6-3, 6-1. A. Brenzley (+ 1/6) beat W. B. Roberts (+ 3/6), 6-1, 6-4.

Handicap Singles "B."—C. M. Wilson (+ 5/6) beat C. V. Mark (scr.), 6-2, 6-1. C. W. E. Bishop (+ 4/6) beat A. E. Penn (scr.), 6-0, 6-3.

Handicap Doubles.—E. P. Harrison and M. G. Edwards (+2/6) beat J. A. Fraser and L. de Leeuw (+ 5/6), 4-6, 6-1, 6-4.

Mixed Doubles.—C. C. Stark and Mrs. Stark (+15.2) beat G. E. Lambert (+15), 7-5, 10-8; G. R. Sayer and Mrs. Sayer (+2/6) beat J. B. Ross and Mrs. Ross (+15.3), 6-0, 6-1; A. Dyer Ball and Mrs. Bevan (+1/6) beat E. Nicholson and Mrs. Gompertz (+ 4/6), 6-2, 6-1.

HONGKONG'S FOOTBALL.

The remark we made the other week about the greater real shown in cricket competitions in Hongkong is confirmed with regard to football. On Saturday, March 10th, there were eleven soccer matches down for decision, some beginning at 3 p.m. and some at 4.30, the Navy providing some eight teams. The climate of Hongkong at this season is favourable to early football. We could not start at 3 p.m. without unduly oppressing the players, but in football and cricket, Hongkong seems to cultivate a wider field of selection for games than we do.—Singapore Free Press.

A PUZZLE A DAY.

There is a certain number composed of four figures. The first two figures, taken together, form a square number. The last two figures also form a square number. The entire number of four figures is a square number. What is the number?

(Note: A square number is formed by multiplying a number by itself. Twenty-five is a square number, because 5x5 equals 25.) Yesterday's answer:

Four straight lines can be drawn through the nine dots in the manner shown in the diagram. It will be noticed that each line begins where the previous line ended, so the pencil does not have to be lifted from the paper.

EATING BETWEEN MEALS.

A Thing to be Avoided.

Do you know that the stomach needs rest regularly and that eating between meals is a common cause of indigestion?

Do you know what happens when you eat more than you can digest? Do you know that good digestion is impossible unless the blood is rich and red, such blood as comes from the use of Dr. Williams' pink pills?

These tonic pills will change dyspeptic, despondent people into energetic, cheerful men and women; because Dr. Williams' pink pills build up the blood, making the stomach able to secrete the needed digestive fluids; at the same time they strengthen the nerves that control the processes of digestion.

After you begin taking Dr. Williams' pink pills the first sign of returning health is usually an increased appetite. Then you find that what you eat causes no distress, and if you exercise reasonable care in the selection of your food you will have no more trouble.

So begin to improve your digestion by starting Dr. Williams' pink pills now. Of chemists, or direct from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kianglee Road, Shanghai, $1.50 per bottle, $3.—, for six bottles, post free.

AT HIS WIFE'S REQUEST.

British Soldiers in India Tells How Baby's Own Tablets Have Helped Their Infant Son.

Corporal A. L. Golding, of the 1st Batt. Royal Scots, stationed at Trimulgherry, India, writes:—"My wife asks me to inform you that she has found Baby's Own Tablets simply invaluable for our baby, now 12 months old, when the child has been troubled with sleeplessness, constipation, teething troubles and feverishness."

Parents everywhere, once they have tried Baby's Own Tablets for their little ones, never resort again to the old-fashioned teething powders and purgatives usually given to children. The Tablets are easy to administer, there being nothing medicinal either in their taste or appearance. They are guaranteed absolutely harmless even to the youngest infant, and give prompt relief in cases of infantile indigestion, constipation, colic, diarrhoea, cramp and teething pains. They also expel worms, prevent and relieve colds, quickly induce sound, refreshing and perfectly natural sleep.

Chemists sell Baby's Own Tablets, or post free, 60 cents per box, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kianglee Road, Shanghai.

CAMERA NEWS.

Leading the advance of the French military forces into the Ruhr are the famous "Blue Devils," the picturesque regiments recruited in the Vosges. Here they are shown entering Recklinghausen.

The Earl of Strathmore, whose daughter is about to marry the Duke of York.

Here are shown a group of French poilus quartered in the Kaiserhof, Essen's leading hotel, after the riot in which Germans were driven from the dining room by French officers armed with riding whips.

A French patrol is shown here returning at dusk from a tour along the bank of the Ruhr river between Werden and Kittingen.

Lines of communication were thrown into a hopeless tangle by the strike of German workers in the Ruhr. Here is a French poilu acting as switchman in Recklinghausen railroad yards.

Close watch is being kept by the new French custom officials on all Rhine traffic to prevent shipment of contraband into Germany. This photo shows a Dutch captain watching French officers searching his river boat at Düsseldorf.
